Grand Jury Reports

Finances, Speed Trap Eyed by Jury

The county's financial status, recent charges of a "speed trap" here and flood dangers in the vicinity of Hancock General Hospital were among items studied by the March grand jury during its two days of deliberation this week.

It recommended that the board of supervisors make every effort to carefully plan expenditures and preparation of the budget to remain within the county's income. In considering accusations against the county of "speed traps", the jury said it investigated the number of cash bonds that have been placed in accordance with the law by the people who have been caught speeding and did "not find that the number of arrests has been excessive nor are we able to say that there are at the present any so-called "speed traps."

The matter was discussed with Sheriff Gerald V. Price and the jury said it urged him to make certain such traps are not created and "that every effort be made to prevent them consistent with his duties of law enforcement."

The report renewed previous requests to correct the low spot on Dasher Avenue, known as Magnolia Branch, leading to the hospital and county home, which is almost entirely impassable during high water.

It urged expediting plans now under way to renovate the Courthouse, found the county home in excellent condition and commended Mrs. Fricks, found the jail and Courthouse satisfactory and expressed appreciation to Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis for preparation of the docket, the sheriff and his staff and District Attorney Ray Jones Holleman.

The Hancock County grand jury Tuesday returned 16 true bills of indictments as it wrapped up its studies in one of the briefest sessions in recent years. Twelve defendants now in custody are to be arraigned before Circuit Judge Leslie B. Grant at 10 a. m. today, all but two of them being charged with some type of theft. Capital cases are being issued for the others and court officials declined to name the individuals until they are apprehended.

True bills for burglary and larceny were found against Jerry Parker, M. C. Parker, William J. Hollingsworth, Homer Dase, Jr., William Crawford Jackson, Jr., two counter Vester Leshner, Jr., and Troy Janas. James also is charged on one count of burglary while Jackson faces four counts of burglary as well. Those two, with the Leshner youth, were arrested in connection with a series of break-ins in Waveland a few weeks ago.

A grand larceny indictment was returned against Billy Bland and one for attempted grand larceny against Larry William Blank.

Other true bills found were against Floyd Fricks, false personation, and Oscar Barabino, child desertion.

The grand jury, with Michael J. Necaise, Jr., Mississippi Power Co. employs, as foreman, introduced on Page 10.

Hubbard Advances Plan To Bail General Fund

A plan to bail the county's general fund out of its bankrupt status via a local and private bill in the legislature to permit use of surplus monies in the road and bridge bond fund was advanced to the board of supervisors Monday by President R. G. Hubbard, Jr., of Beat 5.

A very rough check of the books showed some $60,000 has been paid out on the bonds since the state auditors' last check with something like $40,000 remaining to amortize the issue in 1963 compared to an excess of $100,000 in the sinking fund, although some of the latter is out in loans. Attorney Lucien M. Gex directed Clerk Claiborne Lader, who also serves as county auditor, to get the figures straight so that if the surplus, including allowance for interest, is sufficient, he can prepare a bill for Rep. Clarence M. Lader to introduce.

Hubbard said his plan, if feasible, would not require any increase in taxes. Lader observed that the general fund now owes $12,500 which, if paid, would bankrupt it and expressed doubt about getting through the year. Clerk Lader presented an affidavit from former Beat 4 Supervisor Lander Necaise and Jack Lott, notarized by J.P. Frank Selph, stating that the road from the Kiln-Pass Christian highway to the house of Thomas Gonzales have been maintained for 60 years and advised the present board of supervisors to continue that practice. James D. Necaise, present Beat 4 supervisor, said the culverts had been dug up and the road hadn't been graded in years. His colleagues agreed to meet him at the scene Tuesday morning to determine what action should be taken after consulting that the two "ex-supervisors have put you on the spot."

Walzer J. Phillips, attorney for the county school board, suggested the supervisors seek legislation to provide that in a county where the federal government has removed a certain amount of the territory the assessment remain constant for purposes of fixing the compensation of county officials. He noted that the NASA test site here could cut the pay of several officials fixed on an assessment basis. He also asked the board to help get a law to clarify the status of 16th Section land in this county in the township which is a part of the Picomine school district which will be vacated with NASA. Gex said the school board should draft a plan to submit to the supervisors.

Bill of Joseph Robert Lader for two months pay as a seasonal foreman at $198 a month was tabled, one such claim having.

68 Sign Petitions On Bonds

The proposed $200,000 road improvement bond issue for Beat 5 apparently cleared its first hurdle this week when only two petitions bearing 68 names were presented to the board of supervisors calling for a referendum on the question.

One petition was submitted Monday and another before the 10 a. m. specified deadline Tuesday. On the advice of Attorney Lucien M. Gex the board referred the two documents to the county election commissioners to ratify qualifications of the commissioners and adjudicate whether they constitute the 20 percent of the beat's voters necessary to take the matter to an election.

The board adjourned until March 26 when the election body's report is to be ready. Bonds probably will then be advertised for sale, usually requiring 30 days.

Gex cautioned Clerk Claiborne Lader not to accept any further petitions Tuesday as the 10 a. m. deadline was specified in the legal notice of the bond proposal.

Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard, Jr., said that in the interim he will get the survey work done on the streets he proposed to surface or repair.

Petition for School in Pearlington Area

A petition signed by 106 citizens of the Logtown area calling for relocation of their school near Pearlington when the SA made test site, becomes a petition to the board of education Saturday.

Noting that the Logtown elementary school will be eliminated by the NASA installation, a petition called on the board to provide a new site near Pearlington to take care of children now living in that area as well as new families moving in. County Superintendent R. G. Carty raised the question of future of the county's 16th Section land in the test site area as a part of the Picomine Municipal Separate School District when the land is vacated two years hence. This territory is petitioned to become a part of the Picomine district in 1963, said a petition with 177 names already had been presented to the board.

Palmer Reports in Status of Bail Request

U.S. Rep. William M. Colmer, who received a reply to a letter written Feb. 28 to David W. Palmer, deputy administrator of a George C. Marshall Space Center in Huntsville, Ala., requesting that full consideration be given a request from the board of supervisors, issued as the question of the Chamber of Commerce, regarding the possible service for the new Mississippi Missile Test Site. Newby replied that officials

Picomine board seeking release.

Attorney Walker J. Phillips said a copy should be secured and examined by the Hancock board to determine if the petition covers the present points. He said he already had conferred with the attorney-general's office and it seemed a general law would be needed from the state legislature on release of the 16th Section tract in Township 7 because two counties are involved. McCarty noted his concern in the matter, estimating the whole territory now involves an assessment of about $500,000 on which this county does not get school taxes.

NASA Committee Asks County Levy

A county-wide levy to finance operations of the NASA coordinating committee and establishment of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce office on U. S. 90 with a full-time employee were among recommendations heard by the coordinating executive body during sessions last week with its sub-committees.

R. G. Hubbard, Jr., general chairman, said the housing relocation group seemed to have ironed out its problems by suggesting a pigeonhole for each rocky firm in the chamber office in which its listings could be placed for those coming to town to check. Attendance at the monthly conference with this committee was especially good, he said. R. G. Arcomaux is chairman.

In another NASA-connected growth problem, the board fixed a limit of 15 days employment for Luther P. Tanner of Moss Point to assemble data to submit with the board's application for federal aid in construction. Tanner had been hired at the previous meeting for not more than $30 a day after the board found similar professional help would run even higher.

A resolution commending the 1961-62 basketball team of Hancock North Central and its member was adopted unanimously after Coach Billy Sills appeared to rebuke some charges leveled against him.

Engineers Get Extension from Waveland Board

Waveland Town Council, meeting last Wednesday night because of the Mardi Gras holiday on its regular session night, granted a 30-day extension to Dorblin and Associates, New Orleans planning consultants, to complete their engineering studies for the town's planning ordinance.

March 25 had been the deadline and the extension was requested by Joseph V. Colson, chairman of the planning commission, after conferences last week with Dorblin on the proposed sub-division regulations. These items will now be taken up at the next session.

??? Many, When Schools Wonder

Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District trustees Monday night wrestled with the problem how to realistically plan for the pupil enrollment they may face with the NASA installation and when.

Superintendent J.D. McCulloch sought direction from board whether in making a request for federal aid he should aim in teaching of teacher assistant or new classrooms. He said he is trying to get a survey made on the situation and hopes to have it ready in about two weeks on what needs to report. Robert L. Hamilton, board president, suggested seeking advice from top education officials in the state.

The superintendent raised the question of how many additional pupils to expect during the construction period of the lunar landing test site and the number when it becomes operative. He noted a few new pupils have been enrolling every week.

Some sources have estimated the project will bring about 1,000 children of school age but it is to be determined where their families will settle.

On McCulloch's recommendation, a purchase was approved of a 66-passenger bus to replace the present Waveland bus. Two proposals were received for the chassis and the board took the low one on a GMC model from Hills Motors. It was noted that no bid was received on an International truck because the manufacturer had not filed specifications with the State.

Deputy and Doctor Combine to Save Girl from Drowning

A two-year-old Pearlington child is undergoing treatment at Hancock General Hospital for pneumonia after she narrowly escaped drowning in a pond near her home Saturday.

Karen Louise Fricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Fricks, had wandered from the house onto a banana and was misadventure about 15 minutes when her mother found her floating face downward on the surface of the pond.

Sheriff Gerald V. Price said Deputy Donald Marquez sped Dr. C.D. Wilson, Jr., to the hospital in an effort to revive the infant and then rushed her to the hospital where she was admitted about 4:45 p.m.

Claude Weeks To Head VFW

Herbert Shyon, senior vice commander; Carl Heitzmann, quartermaster; Hugh Sanford, adjutant; Warren Carver, chaplain; and Edward Fayard, service officer.

Named trustees were Hugh Miller, three years; Edward Fayard, two years; an John W. Smith, one year.

Wiring Blamed in Fire at Davis Home

Faulty wiring was blamed as the cause of a fire last Thursday night which did an estimated $1,000 damage to a State Street home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis.

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department answered the call at 10:20 p. m. and had the attic blaze at 120 State St. under control in about an hour. Personal possessions were removed from the home, owned by McDonald Realty Co.

American Legion Backs Redistricting Request

The American Legion last Thursday night became the first civic organization in Hancock County to join the Chamber of Commerce in requesting redistricting of the county in the light of the impending NASA test site.

Two veteran Legionnaires also were honored during the occasion by being awarded life memberships.

Rotarians Elect Garner as Proxy

Thomas J. Garner was elected president of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club for 1962-63 at a meeting of the newly named board of directors Monday. He will take office July 1 succeeding W. R. Gordon.

J. Hugh Miller was chosen vice president and Carl Smith was elected to another term as secretary-treasurer.

The resolution noted the need for redistricting since the 114,000 acres to be acquired for the test site take a major part of Beat 1, practically all of Beat 2, a considerable amount of Beat 4 and some of Beat 5. Necessary revision of beat lines is urged under Chapter 2870 of the State Code of 1942 which calls for dividing each county into five districts "with due regard to equality of population."

They were Henry Capdepon and Sheriff Gerald V. Price. Only other member of the post to be recognized was Fred Foyard.

Frank Taconi, commander of Clement Post 139, said the vote on the redistricting resolution, presented by Lucien Kidd, judge advocate, was unanimous. About 65 Legionnaires were present.

Mardi Gras fun ended with cold reality of classes early this morning. Public school students returned on Wednesday, those of the Episcopal, Our Lady of the Gulf, St. Joseph and St. Ann's enjoyed an additional day of grace, resuming their studies Thursday. However, the scholars are looking forward to two days of freedom, Friday and Saturday, as their teachers will be attending the annual state convention in Jack-

Just about everyone agreed this year's local parade was biggest and best yet; the float works of art—Christ the Ram of the Jungles complete with living vegetation and some most convincing make-believe palm trees.
The blonde Connie Geiger was lovely queen in her elaborate costume and King Bruce Cox together in a truly regal manner.
The maids, wearing bouffant passion refused to allow the breezes to dim their sim-

Ann Clark who rode on the Scout float with cookie sale floaters Mildred Baum and Ernette Landwein didn't allow a minor mishap, such as the removal of the rear of the float a low-hanging limb, spoil her appearance.

Ann Ballatin and Kathy Sa-were among Betty Younger's Riders, or Drizzling Drifters, as they were called for the ride. Judy Tallac caused comment in her striking black riding habit.

Many went into the Crescent City for various balls and to enjoy the spirit of the day that "Care Forger" on the biggest day of the year. Nita Erwin and Laurie Keifer attended the ball of the Krewe of Roses. Rhett Glass spent her holidays in Gulf Park with friends in New Orleans.

One of the gayest gatherings on Tuesday was the dance for Martin Morreale by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Morreale. Martin and members of his band, Henry Heitzman, Howard Carver, Squeaky Hill and Robert Bourgeois furnished music for dancing in the magnificent ballroom which was decorated for the occasion. Among the guests were Jo Ann McCu-ch, Leroy Luke, Glenda Kennedy, Mary Alice Kingston, Ronald Peterson, Lester LaFrance, Bill and Eddie Jennings, John-Kramer, Nancy Swords, Juliet J.P. Compert, Bobby Compert, Patsy Carver, Ray

Ludiche, Gail and Irvin Higgins, Nancy Barnett, Harvey and Gerard Cholina, Corky Schindler, Ji-am Glanetta, Richard Schaefer, Alice, Beverly and Michael Lee, Tom Henry, Chuck Wagner, Geo-
ge Garcia, Harvey Mitchell, Cud-Bourgeois, Dominica Morre-ale, James Watson and Joe Morre-ale.

Dot Wilson, who hails from North Mississippi, is creating quite a stir among the young men at Bay High. Dot, a firstyearman, entered the local school contest last week.

Diane Dickson, who became the bride of Gary Karl last Monday, March 5, observed her 18th birthday on the 7th. Dianne accompanied Gary to Ft. Chaffee, Ark., returned home Sunday as he'll be on maneuvers for five weeks.
She'll join him as soon as he's assigned to his next post.

Warren Traub and Bob Hamilton took Naval academy exams in Gainesville, Fla., last Thursday.
Bay High's campus queen candidates have been selected—however we can't reveal their names for a most important reason—we haven't the faintest idea who they are!

Three local musicians, Henry Heitzmann, Harry Ward and Greg Necalce played with the triple who furnished twinstable music for the recent dance given at the Jaycee Hall by the very active Explorer Post No. 214.
Miss Rhodes, queen, and Ned Smith, king, were presented with lovely gifts donated by Jerome's department store by Bill Mc-Connell and Sam Cuevas.

Ripple Rausch hosted a real one! A party Saturday night.
The guests were directed to the house by wild signs, a huge bathe at the portals suggested that the hostess enter and discover who's really behind the green door.

Aaron Brensike and Elwood
Louis Bourgeois appeared 28 largeboneders near Bayou Cadiz last Monday night.

of North Central superintendent was interviewed and McCarthy expressed hope a selection could be made when the board reconvenes at 9:30 a.m. March 24. He has said he does not plan to recommend the incumbent for another term.

Rouse was authorized to permit use of North Central gym for an entertainment program by B.J. Johnson with the school to get no less than 40% of the gross receipts.

McCarthy, the superintendent of the school (Leo Rouse) and the principal (J.C. Harrell), Sills said flatly.

As for complaints over who sat on the bench in the Hawks loss to Bassfield in the opening round of the recent District 8 1st stringer had three fouls in the first quarter and he didn't want to lose him, another fouled out. "It's a young team," he observed, noting none of the first five were on the first string last year and there was one senior.

McCarthy inquired if Sills' record with the team this year was 30 wins and four losses and then what he had done at Bogue Chitto. The first year, Sills replied, he won 44 and lost five and the second won 31 and lost four.

Trustee Lucie Nescase wanted to know if the coach ordered the boys how to cut their hair. Not their hair, the coach replied, but he did tell one boy to get his sideburns cut when they were chin deep. Nescase said since several parents had told him they would not permit their boys to play under Sills. Phillips countered that some parents strongly disagreed with the rules set up by Ole Miss' highly successful grid coach, Johnny Voight, declaring that discipline is vital to any successful activity.

"The way I look at it," commented Boy 5 Trustee E.P. Orto, "you're to be congratulated to doing one hell of a fine job."

J.L. Crump

Mrs. James Lyman Crump, with her husband developed gardens at Holly Bluff on Jordan into one of the world's largest, died suddenly Monday afternoon at her apartment in the grounds of Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans. She had been saying there since March 31, 1959, from which she is still in a coma. The funeral, attended by many guests from here, took place Tuesday afternoon in New Orleans with burial in Metairie cemetery.

The former Miss Otha Morel, was the daughter of the late J. and Mary Sydney Morel of New Orleans. She was educated in that city and for several years before her marriage was secretary of the New Orleans Item. She was queen of the Atysic Carnival Ball several decades ago.

The Crumps purchased Holly Bluff more than 25 years ago. Mrs. Crump spent endless hours on the grounds where under care blossomed every spring a breathtaking array of azaleas which attracted visitors from every state and many foreign lands. Surviving in addition to Mr. Crump are four sisters, Miss Mary Morel, Mrs. Anita Morel, Mrs. Louise Townsend of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Samuel C. Crump of Cotuit, Mass.

Miss Laura O'Leary

Miss Laura Belle O'Leary, native of St. Louis, Mo., had made her home here about 40 years, died Saturday at Hancock General Hospital. She resided on Felicity Street and moving to Gulf View Haven a time ago. Surviving is one niece, Mrs. Edward Groner of New Orleans.

Final rites were Monday from First Presbyterian Church with burial in the Garden of Memories. The O'Leary Funeral Home is in charge.

the space program planned discuss at a very early date the proposal that mails to the ASA project be routed through the Bay St. Louis or Bartington Post Office. Colmer told Newby, in his letter he had been notified by authorities of the Post Office Department that in such a case the one in Hancock County mail usually is routed through the nearest large office like the one in Bay St. Louis.

Colmer had mentioned to Newby that Hancock County officials were upset in that the NASA wasn't named Hancock County Missile Testing Site, and that the thought proper consideration should be given at an early opportunity to the mail problem.

With a veterinarian currently during the county to inoculate dogs against rabies, the board of aldermen adopted a resolution declaring that they will enforce the town ordinance requiring rabies shots for all dogs.

Moore and Powell, certified public accountants from Biloxi, submitted their audit of the town's finances for the last fiscal year with a letter declaring "In our opinion the funds have been honestly handled and accounted for during the fiscal year ending April 30, 1961."

Council authorized payment of funds in the amounts of $17,196.25 and $9,620 of which $13,000 is principal.

Other action included authorization for five new street lights, bringing to total approved to date this year to 20.

Building permits totaling $1,500 were approved as follows: Sam Blanchard, Beach Blvd., rect carport; John J. McDonald, Lakeside subdivision, house; E. Glenn, Coleman Avenue, post-office; Helen Nadell, Waveland Avenue, utility room, and A. F. Brown, Gulf Gardens, house.

MARVELS OF SCIENCE—Stephen Paine and Ellen McAuley, first place winners in the elementary grades division of Christ Day School's first science fair last week, check some of the projects devised by their classmates.

Christ School Science Fair Winners Told

Christ Episcopal Day School held its first Science Fair Friday at the school and 18 winners were selected.

Pam Pike won first place for biology in the 7-8 grade division. Elaine deMontluzin and David were second and third. Nancy Allen's physical project won first place and Joe Ratner and Mike Poindexter were second and third.

Helen Johnson, Mary Jane Chapman and Lewis Wagner finished in that order for biological projects in grades five and six. Craig Cleveland, Leo Parker and Claude Yarborough were tops in that order for physical projects.

Stephen Paine, Kenny Ladner and Quin Ratliff rated the best in the 3-4 grade division and Ellen McAuley, Candy Alman and Susan Lynch were judged best among 1-2 grade students.

Deposit-Free Motor Oils Now Available

Standard Oil Stations are now offering Southern motorists a line of revolutionary new motor oils.

Sold under the brand name RPM, the new motor oils contain an ash-detergent that halts engine wear, it is stated. This detergent leaves no deposits; keeps combustion chamber clean and moving parts free of soot so that engines perform better, longer and require less maintenance.

These new RPM oils have been thoroughly road-tested in other marring areas and millions of miles of longer driving have proved that detergents do a remarkable job of halting engine wear," the standard spokesman said.

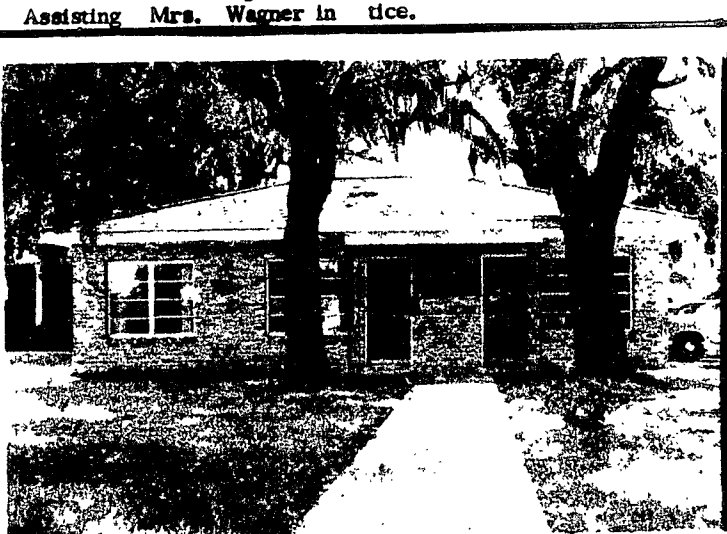

With the introduction of new RPM Motor Oils, Standard's retail outlets offer the only complete line of deposit-free oils in the South.

Lisa Wagner Feted On 7th Birthday

Mrs. Fred Wagner entertained at a party at Bay Bowling Center Friday afternoon on the occasion of her daughter, Lisa's seventh birthday. Enjoying the huge green-trimmed white cake, an exact duplicate of a bowling alley, and soft drinks were June Porter, Ellen McAuley, Gary Yarborough, Jimmy Ball, Lynn Phillips, Eileen Sewell, Richard Hadden, Rusty Chapman, Peter Walker, Mort Mumme, Ben McMath, Doug and Scott Prentice, Louise Ladner, Mary Turtle, Shelly Johnston, and Lisa's brother, Clay.

There are many who find statistics boring — once in a while, however, someone does a bit of research on a subject and the results are interesting. We refer specifically to the outcome of a survey conducted in Lowndes County which elicited the fact that residents of that area own more television sets than bachelors — the figure being 7,027 TVs to 8,368 bachelors or bachelors just exactly the opposite of what we're not at all certain. But we're willing to bet that many small boys would find this an ideal situation.

Which brings up another question — wonder just how many females in similar rural areas have more automobiles than bathing facilities? As drivers through the country we've noted many more of two-room shacks (with large TV antennas, of course), a refrigerator, washer on the porch, a large shiny automobile about twice the size of the house parked in front and plumbing of the chic variety in the rear. We haven't time to do extensive probing into this mystery — as there's lots of news to pass on — so we're bringing our readers up to date on local happenings, we'd appreciate the response from any of you who may be able to shed a bit of light on the aforementioned subject.

About Our Sick Friends

We'll begin with our get well wishes — with the recent holiday excitement we're way behind on these — Rae Rasmussen has returned to her Lakeshore home after spending eight days in Hancock General. Rae fell in her kitchen fracturing her right wrist and crushing the bone in her left. She'll be in double casts until April 17, a thoroughly miserable situation as she is unable to use either hand even to the extent of feeding herself. Adam Russell is back at Scripps after spending a week in bed as a result of a severe case of flu — Betty and Ed Phillips are both still under the weather although Mr. Ed is looking ever so much better and is strong enough to drive once more.

All of the floats in our local Mardi Gras Parade drew favorable comment — there weren't too many maskers but the Clermont Harbor crew, Lloyd Garcia, Herbert and Gloria Peterson and Elaine and B. E. Steimle were the "most" — almost no one recognized Lloyd and Herb who were just about the most voluble she-males we've seen for quite some time. Lloyd made the supreme sacrifice and shaved his mustache to complete the effect. . . his flowing golden curls and large hat made him a reasonable facsimile of Mae West — Herb's twisting drew applause from bystanders. Mrs. Charles Bradley was also in the parade although quite by accident as she was of the opinion that it was all over when she entered the procession.

Georgene and Bob Torgersen turned up at the Carnival party at the Yacht Club in clown regalia. Ora May and Connie Herlihy, Laura and Alex Hunter, Claire and Fred Bourgeois and Rose and Charles Richard enjoyed the annual get-together at St. Clare's Parish Hall on Mardi Gras.

Elaine Lader and Aline Courvoisier's names must be added to the list of proud grandmothers — Diana and Bert Courvoisier welcomed their first-born, little Dinah Lynn on Feb. 19. She arrived in a New Orleans hospital weighing seven pounds, four ounces.

From the Bay — Congratulations to Manuel Maurigi — Maurigi's Shoe Repair Shop celebrated its silver anniversary on March 12, having been in the same location for the past 25 years. Mr. Maurigi started in this business with his father in 1915.

Also celebrating a silver anniversary on this date were Jenny and Irvin "Posey" Lader, who observed 25 years of wedded bliss Sunday.

Caryl and Don Prentice have purchased a home in a Chicago suburb where they're to be transferred in June. . . they're somewhat less than jubilant over the prospect of leaving the coast where they enjoy boating, fishing, crabbing and similar pursuits.

Little Karen Fayard, second child and first daughter of Marilyn and Kenny Fayard was christened at 4 p. m. Sunday at Our Lady of the Gulf. Rev. Bernard Hedrick officiated. Aunt Pat Noonan was godmother. Our Bourgeois, the godfather. Karen's personal grandmother, Lucille Fayard, was treated to her first glimpse of the young lady Sunday as she is now allowed to spend several hours daily in a wheelchair and may enjoy visits from her grandchildren in the lobby of Gulfport Memorial. She is now using a walker and will be able to return home as soon as she learns to walk on crutches — perhaps in the next two or three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capdepon received word that they have become grandparents of an even dozen last Friday. S. Sgt. and Mrs. Henry Capdepon, Jr., welcomed their third child and second son in a Kansas City, Mo. hospital March 9. Mrs. Capdepon, Jr., is the former Charlotte Ann Russ, daughter of Mrs. Edna Russ of Pearllington.

During Lent

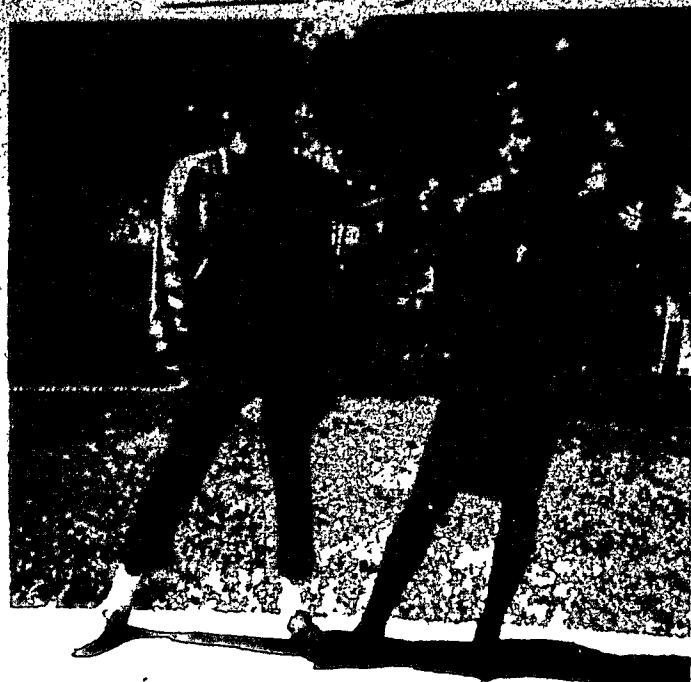

We've been requested to mention that Lenten services will be held at St. Clare's at 7:30 p.m. Fridays and Sundays. Prayers from Pine Hills will substitute for Father Costello.

The approach of spring brought a slew of weekenders to their summer homes, many of whom haven't been here since Christmas. Among these were Jack and Fred Lister and the little Listers, A. Bosch and his family, the Leo Poders, the Charles Shambleys, Cape and Mrs. Mark Cabarc and their St. Anthony Street neighbors.

Mr. Turner, who plans to make Waveland his permanent home upon retiring as manager of one of the Katz and Benoff drug concerns.

Pony Rooters

Taking in the races at the Fairgrounds the last week of the meet, Thursday to be specific, were such notables as Lucien (Push) Cox, Walter James Phillips, Alvin Gartin, Manny Hubbard and Claiborne Lader — another group attending the same day included Grace, Sam, Wilfred, Ray and Lambert Bordages, Gladys

MARDI GRAS BEATNIKS Garbed as "but of this world beatniks," Ronnie Steimle and Margie Lefant won the costume contest of the recent Mardi Gras dance at Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center.

Miss Gloria Tate Becomes Bride of David Shanahan

Miss Gloria Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Tate of Piquette, became the bride of David L. Shanahan, son of Baxter, Neddie Burleigh, Belle Peterson, Maxine and Lloyd Garcia and Gloria and Herbert Peterson.

The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, 111 N. 1st St., on Friday, March 12, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Crawford Sullivan heard the vows beneath an arch of roses and ivy flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown of white lace over satin fashioned with scalloped neckline, fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves ending in points at the wrists and a very full skirt. Her veil of nylon tulle edged in lace fell from a small circular headband and she carried a cascade of white carnations and pom poms.

Mrs. Everett Necaise of Bay St. Louis, her sister's matron of honor, wore a chapel length dress of beige brocade taffeta featuring a round neckline, cap sleeves and box-pleated skirt with matching shoes. The bridesmaids, Misses Diane Tate, Mary Shanahan of Bay St. Louis and Barbara Johnson, wore dresses similar to that of Mrs. Necaise, of blue chiffon over taffeta; all carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The dress of the flower girl, Cynthia Lader, was a miniature of the bride's gown, her flowers were white pom poms.

Robert Bulbo was best man. Groomsmen were Claiborne Cooper, Kenneth Lader, Keith Skipper and Bobby Watts.

The home of the bride's parents was decorated with spring flowers for the reception afterward. Mrs. Tate received in a dress of beige linen with brown hat and accessories. Mrs. Shanahan chose blue lace over taffeta, matching hat and black accessories. Their corsages were pink carnations.

Following a honeymoon on the coast, the young couple returned to Bay St. Louis where they will make their home.

Weekend guests of Comdr. and Mrs. A. E. Moore were Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace of Decatur, Ala., who were enroute to West Louisiana.

LAKESHORE LOG

BY MRS. MALCOLM GREEN

HO 7-3816

Lakeshore Boy Scout Troop under the leadership of Fred Johnson enjoyed a camping trip Saturday night on the Bully Zengering property on Bayou La Croix.

Enjoying the fishing and food were Clarence and Allen Green, John Miller, Tommy Layne, Carl Johnson, Audie Stoufflet, Nicholas Schwartz and Buddy Boswell.

Our thanks to Grandpa Ben Green for the loan of his pigs for our wagon train float (ours were too young but did use the children's bantams), to Buddy Frickie for the use of his tractor and float bed, to Dave McDonald for plywood, and to Mrs. Irene Cuevas, and Mr. Debenport for their help on the float.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Harrison and children, Dwayne and Gwen of Pensacola, Fla., were weekend guests of Fred and Edna Johnson. Mr. Harrison secured a visitor's permit and really enjoyed the fishing.

A late happy birthday to Marcella Schwartz who is now 13, Ronnie La Fongaine who is 16, Sally Lutch who is 6 and Debbie Stoufflet who is a big 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Lee of Logtown came down Sunday looking around for a possible site to build on when they have to make room for NASA.

A get well wish to Gaynell Lader who has been ill at home and to Mrs. Luch, mother of William Luch, who has been a patient at Hancock General.

Shirley Green and sister, Emelinda Smith, have returned from an enjoyable visit to Florida.

Much needed stop signs have been placed at the corner of the school. Perhaps some of the speeders will slow down now.

A warm and hearty welcome to Dr. Keith Hammond, Pediatrician, who will be associated with the Martinloch-Schmidt Clinic.

There will be a party Sunday afternoon at the Lakeshore Civic Hall for Miss. Virginia Thomas of U.S. 90 a candidate for May Queen of St. Joseph Academy's May Festival.

Harry Hears... It's Hectic Nationally

Although activity on the local sports scene is light at the moment, the national picture is busy, with the start of exhibition league baseball games and the NCAA and NIT college basketball tournaments in full swing.

Grid Outlook at Home

Track and baseball will be starting soon at both St. Stanislaus and Bay High. The Rockchaws finished their spring football, ending two weeks ago with an intrasquad game and Bay High ending a month of hard work Wednesday. Both teams are similar in that they will have especially strong lines returning next season.

Coach Lance Lumpkin's Tigers lose only one starter off of their line, all-conference guard Al Watts. A few other players who saw plenty of action also graduate, but six first-year boys, some experienced substitutes, and a crew of able players from an undefeated junior varsity team coached by Wilbur Seymour, should help Lumpkin solve most of his few line problems. St. Stanislaus' new coach, Billy Murphy, also is faced with a fortunate line situation. Mike Masburn, a terrific center, and Paul Aucolin, Larry Fee and other experienced linemen will be back for another year's service.

St. Stanislaus, in the backfield, loses quarterback Mike Gore and halfback Waldo Caceres, but does have some good reserves in last year's team coming up. Indications are that Murphy will put a single-wing attack into effect next year.

Bay High's Coach Lumpkin said of his team: "We have a fine group of boys out for spring practice who really mean business. They seem to have the desire and ambition to follow the other players who are graduating." Bay High loses the Gulf Coast Conference's most outstanding back of last year, fullback Bobby Calsem, and all-conference quarterback Ronnie Peterson, whom Lumpkin has termed "one of the finest quarterbacks I've ever seen." Bay High's chief worry will probably be at quarterback — Leroy Luke, a junior next year, called signals for last year's JV and is the leading candidate for the quarterback post the varsity. Halfback Saucier is the big backfield threat for the Tigers and may have to do more than the usual share of balling.

CAAPredictions

The NCAA basketball tournament is the big item of conversation in basketball circles. First-round games were played Monday night, but most of the real title threats won't see action until Friday.

The Eastern section of the tournament (the tourney is divided geographically into four sections, winners of which play for the championship) has no real favorite. Wake Forest and West Virginia probably are the two best teams, but last year a lowly rated St. Joseph, won and didn't fair badly in overall competition. Wake Forest is the biggest and has an All-American in 6-8 Chappell, who is averaging 31 points a game and is also a rebounding threat. West Virginia was upset Monday night by Villanova in a first-round game and we think Wake Forest is a squad good enough to win in the East at College Park, Md. The Midwest sector includes the teams local fans are most interested in, Kentucky and Ohio State. Both should reach Saturday night's regional finals at Iowa City, Iowa, although West Kentucky, not rated highly, has a club good enough to beat Ohio State on a Buckeye off night. The two will probably play Saturday night in semifinal regional play at Iowa City. We like Kentucky — Cotton Nash and Larry Pursell form a great one-punch — and hope they handle Ohio State. We think they will.

In the West, UCLA is a slight favorite, but since we're on an Oregon binge, we might as well keep it up. Oregon State has even-foot sophomore center who can handle himself pretty well, beat all-around athlete in college, combination football-basketball star Terry Baker, and a couple of other big boys to back them. If Oregon State doesn't have a bad night, they have our prediction.

Best in the Midwest section is Cincinnati, defending NCAA champs who beat Ohio State in the finals last year in a major upset. Like last year, going into the tournament Cincinnati is ranked one and nation-wide behind the Buckeyes. We figured Memphis to be a major opposition to the Bearcats but the Tennessee team were eliminated Monday night by Creighton. Cincinnati is choice.

Smith, Ex-SSC Mentor

Ernie Smith, former head basketball coach at St. Stanislaus, led his St. Aloystus cagers to second place last week in the Indiana State AAA Basketball Tournament. The Crusaders were ousted in the finals by De La Salle, a team they had beaten six times during the season.

Smith coached SSC a few years ago to victories in the Sub-district and District Eight tournaments before the Rocks were ousted in the South Mississippi Tournament. That was the same year Bay High had its most successful team in recent times. The Tigers, at that time under Coach Donald Caldwell, now the school's principal, were runners-up to SSC in the sub-district district events, but won in a first-round game in South Mississippi play. The Tigers were finally beaten by Philadelphia, the usual over-all state champ.

Smith has been very successful at St. Aloystus and is so good he's rumored he might accept a collegiate coaching job next season.

Yacht Club to Launch Boats On April 4

Launching and rigging of fish boats will begin April 4 at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, according to Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Jr., fish class chairman. Several regattas are on the summer agenda for local sailing fans, first of which will be the annual Junior Penguin Championships June 9-10.

Officially opening the '62 racing parade of events will be the Gulf Yachting Assn. Opening Regatta at New Orleans Yacht Club May 5-6. The GYA Malloway Western District Eliminations will be staged May 12-13 also at NOYC, while the GYA Adams Western Division eliminations will be the same dates at Pass Christian Yacht Club. The Adams eliminations are for females while the Malloway Eliminations are for males. Sears Cup eliminations, for junior skippers, will begin July 14-15 at Pass Christian Yacht Club.

Among the events to be at the local club this year are, in addition to the Junior Penguin Championships, the Monk Smith Memorial Regatta during Race Week, June 30-July 4, the GYA District Lightning Championship, July 14-15, and the GYA Adams Cup quarter-finals, July 28-29.

Committee chairmen this year, in addition to Dr. Wolfe, include R. L. Hadden, house committee; Bob Boh, race; Herbert Schaefer, fleet captain; Leo W. Seal, Jr., regatta, and Dr. W. L. McFarland, fleet surgeon secretary.

Nebraska Pair Are Caught by Sheriff

Two Nebraska youths, wanted by authorities in their state, were apprehended here Friday with a car full of loot after an attempt to steal money at Gibson Service Station on Uman Avenue, Sheriff Gerald V. Price reported.

According to the sheriff and Chief Deputy Gerald Price, Jr., the boys in a green Oldsmobile bought 30 cents of gas at Gibson's. The 19-year-old drove down the street, sent the boy, 14, back to get the money from the cash register, then was noticed by the proprietor's son. Units on the highway were alerted and Mrs. Phillips at the scales saw the car parked nearby, notified Deputy Nolan Kingston who picked the pair up.

Price said the car contained a sawed off .22 pistol made into a rifle, .32 pistol, .22 automatic rifle, three transistor radios, a pair of field glasses, half a dozen courtesy cards, watches, binoculars, flash lights, cotton gloves, and fishing knives.

The younger boy told the sheriff the older one and three companions had broken into a pawn shop in Norfolk, Neb. Authorities there were notified and they are sending detainees down.

John H. Selling, arrested two weeks ago by Deputy Price and City Policeman Latham Garriga, on charges of begging, no license and an expired auto tag, was picked up Tuesday by Orange, Tex., authorities to face charges of auto theft and taking equipment from a disc jockey.

The three Kentuckians, Leeland Gregory, alias Kie Benton, Virgil Elam and Johnson, were taken to New Orleans Wednesday by detectives from there after a check at Slidell, the cash register company and the New Orleans police determined the place from which the registers in their possession were stolen. They were convicted here on concealed weapon and no license charges while Price's staff sought other information.

St. Rose Spelling Contest Is Tuesday

The third annual spelling contest at St. Rose de Lima School will take place at 7 p. m. Tuesday with 235 contestants scheduled to take part.

Four schools participating will be St. Rose, Valena C. Jones Randolph High and Father Sweetney Memorial from Pass Christian. Priests from St. Augustine Seminary will judge the contest with two teachers, Mrs. Dorothy Bradley and Miss Portia Labat, and Sgt. Clarence Collins calling the words.
